Product description:

LED Street Light - Wall - 50W Wanda - Rectangular

The Wanda-type luminaire incorporates a 50W optical LED module from BRIDGELUX-CHIP that is used to replace the old E40 and E27 bulbs, thanks to its power they manage to generate great lighting as street lamps and as beacons reaching 7500 lumens.

With modern architectural design, it can create uniform light environments with the contemporary spaces that first-class cities demand, and you can also choose the correct light temperature according to the needs of each installation, both neutral white (4000k) or cold white (5000k). Made of oven-baked steel with epoxy paint so its strength and weight are ideal for transport and installation, providing greater protection and a long life, the quality of its materials make it an essential product to generate clean energy and elongated in time.

It stands out for its simple, fine and elegant appearance, it also has the option of being built in Rust or Metallic color.

It fits into any type of exterior lighting project, as it adapts naturally to all types of urban landscapes or private properties.

Thanks to LED technology, you can save up to 80% energy, in addition to having a longer useful life compared to halogen ones. It is considered an ecological product as it is made with non-polluting materials, therefore, you help to take care of the planet.

Its IP67 protection makes it suitable for outdoor use and is safe against splashes or any type of weather change. It comes with a 5 year warranty.
